

SEEDS OF LEARNING 2020 ANNUAL REPORT

Yahoska (a SOL scholarship student) reads a book at home. In response to Covid-19 limitations, SOL launched a book lending initiative, lending over 13,000 books to 150 families.

"The scholarship helps my parents economically with the purchases of school supplies. I really enjoy coming to the Learning Resource Center (LRC) to do my homework, and I make use of the materials that are offered, from books, to the people who help at the Center, to use of the Internet. I also enjoy helping the younger students. It is a tremendous support that I am happy to receive" Melany - SOL scholarship student.

"My daughter recently joined the Reading Campaign at the LRC in Dario. During the last few months, she has been going to the LRC and her reading skills have increased tremendously. She also joined a dance class. Before she could barely read, but now she is reading fluidly and very well. She has also improved in her classes at school and she is very motivated to read books! With the opportunity to borrow books and bring them home, she now reads every day. Thanks to SOL, and the programs offered, the quality of our life has improved." - Melania, mother of a student LRC visitor.

"I often accompany my daughter to the LRC. I love the way in which the staff helps the visitors. I like to help the children who come to do their homework in the library. I also love to learn, and have been inspired to study to complete my last year of high school. Helping others helps me to reinforce my own knowledge. The attention given at the Center is of a very high quality. And, most importantly, the service is completely free.." - Reyna, LRC visitor and mother of a SOL scholarship student.
